TEUTONIC ALLIES STILL DRIVE THE RUSSIANS IN EAST

Lemberg Again Appears to be in Danger From Austro-German Forces

OUTCOME IS WATCHED

England and France More Interested in East Than in Front Nearer Home.

London, June 15. — The Austro-German rush in Galicia is on again. Both Berlin and Vienna claim progress along virtually the entire southeastern front, and Lemberg again appears to be in danger.

Mosciska, east of Przemysl, has been captured by the Austro-Germans and, according to the German contention, the Russians are falling back south of the railroad connecting Przemysl and Lemberg. All Russian counter attacks have been repulsed with gains for the Teutons from a point north of Przemysl into Bessarabia, the Germans say.

England and France Interested.

Far off as this front is from England and France, it is being watched more closely than the western frontier because it would appear that these operations are being pressed in an attempt to clear Galicia of the Russians, preparatory to a breathing spell in the East, which is likely to be followed by a crushing blow aimed at Italy.

The fighting is growing harder daily along the Austro-Italian frontier and, in view of past performances, it is considered reasonable to assume that Germany will throw a great mass of troops on this front and endeavor to sweep into Italy and hold ground there just as she has done in Poland, Belgium and France.

Of the fighting in France around Arras, the German and French official communications flatly contradict each other. On the whole, it is believed here, the advantage has been with the French.

That England is prepared for long siege operations in the Dardanelles is indicated in an official statement just issued, explaining the nature of the tedious trench warfare, although asserting that the Turkish offensive is not so sharp as it was formerly.

Almost complete returns for the general elections assure a war chamber for Greece although with the king still in a precarious condition and the chamber not due to meet for more than a month, no immediate events affecting Greece's neutrality are expected.

The Allied air raid on Karlsruhe resulted in considerable damage, although the nature of it has not been given in detail. Aviators reached a point in Germany farther from their lines than any point previously reached by French or British airmen.

VOTE LARGE CREDITS.

House of Commons Adds Over Billion Dollars to England's Debt.

London, June 15. — The house of commons this afternoon voted another credit of 250,000,000 pounds sterling ($1,250,000,000) making with previous sums a total of 862,000,000 pounds sterling ($4,310,000,000) already allowed for war purposes.

Premier Asquith said in introducing the credit measure that from April 1 to June 12 the expenditure had been at the rate of 2,660,000 pounds sterling ($13,300,000) daily. He estimated that the daily expenditure during the currency of the new credit would be not less than 3,000,000 pounds sterling ($15,000,000) for the reason that as the war extended its area, Great Britain's financial obligations to the Allies would increase.

FULLAM EXPLAINS RECENT ACTIONS

Tells Court of Inquiry as to Advice to Midshipmen.

SAID WANTED TO BE FAIR

Superintendent of the Naval Academy a Witness Before Board Investigating Examination Scandal. At the Naval Academy.

Annapolis, Md., June 15.—Rear Admiral William F. Fullam, superintendent of the Naval Academy, today explained before the court of inquiry investigating the examinations scandal, the advice which he had given prospective midshipmen witnesses. While he was in the witness chair, Admiral Fullam said:

"I consider myself in some sense a defendant in view of what the press of the country has had to say in criticism of the system at the Academy."

When Midshipman A. C. Rogers joined the seven original defendants said Admiral Fullam, after testimony had been given that a paper in Rogers' handwriting had been found on which answers appeared to questions in the last Spanish examination, he accepted the counsel of the other defendants. Admiral Fullam said he sent for Rogers because he felt that he was wronging himself and jeopardizing his interests by placing himself in the same category with the seven midshipmen recommended for dismissal.

"In no case did I try to influence the midshipmen's testimony or their actions in this court," said the superintendent. After others had been drawn into the proceedings, the superintendent said counsel came to him and asked that the seven under arrest be freed, that all the defendants should be given the same status. He told counsel he considered the status of the seven different and he could not release them from confinement aboard the prison ship.

Concerning Rogers.

Referring again to Rogers, Admiral Fullam said that when he considered that the young man's interests had been jeopardized he wanted to know, as his commanding officer, if he was satisfied. It was his duty, he said, before putting him on the prison ship to ask him if he wanted to go into that category.

Asked by Congressman Carlin, of counsel for the midshipmen, about his interview with Secretary of the Navy Daniels in Washington last Saturday, the admiral said that he reviewed the whole matter with the Secretary who expressed a desire for "a full and free investigation of the whole thing by a court in order that there should be no complaint that there had not been a thorough inquiry."

Admiral Fullam said he considered it for the best interests of the Academy and of the Navy that he should reiterate to the Secretary his previous views as to the guilt of the seven midshipmen.

"Unless the court discovers evidence

URGE THE NEED OF BEING PREPARED

Wilson is Asked to Call Attention of Congress to Matter.

MEETING AT NEW YORK

Peace and Preparedness Conference of the National Security League Adopts a Resolution Urging Action.

New York, June 15.—A resolution introduced by Mayor Curley, of Boston, appealing to President Wilson to call the attention of Congress to "the pressing need of prompt and efficient action" with regard to the national defense was unanimously adopted today by the delegates to the peace and preparedness conference of the National Security League. The Massachusetts delegates at first proposed that a special session of Congress be demanded to consider what they termed the unprepared state of the country, but such action was deemed inadvisable and was abandoned.

The preamble to the resolution read in part as follows:

"Events of the past year have demonstrated the fact that war, no matter how greatly it may be deplored, may suddenly and unexpected occur, notwithstanding the existence of treaties of peace and unity and they have shown that nations unprepared have paid and are paying the price of their lack of foresight. The reports of our military and naval experts have made it clear that the defensive forces of the country are inadequate for the proper protection of our coasts to enable our government to maintain its accepted policies, to fulfill obligations to other states and to exert in the adjustment of international questions the influences to which the Republic is entitled."

The resolution itself urged that the President be appealed to to call the early attention of Congress to "the pressing need of prompt and efficient action."

Thousand Attend Luncheon.

The resolution was adopted at an executive session following a luncheon which more than 1,000 persons attended. The speakers were George Von L. Meyer, former Secretary of the Navy; Luke E. Wright, former Secretary of War; Major George Haven Putnam and Frederick R. Coudert.

"We have seen the well established rules of international law, as applied to blockades and the rights of neutrals," said former Secretary Wright, "disregarded by two of the great belligerent powers. It behooves us to see if this bloody tragedy which is being played before our eyes, does not carry with it some lesson to us.

"One of those lessons is that treaties, however solemn, in the stress of angry passion or selfish interests, may be torn to shreds and thrown in the waste basket. Another one is that the rights of neutrals are not always carefully regarded by angry belligerents, and third, the most important to us, that if a nation can hope to escape from danger, to its prosperity or to its very existence, it must be by preparation

CHICAGO TRAFFIC WORSE CONGESTED THAN EVER BEFORE

Normal Transportation Means Totally Paralyzed — Little Violence Reported.

FEDERAL COURT ORDER

Vehicles Ranging From Converted Ice Wagons to Delivery Trucks Used.

Chicago, June 15.—Complete tie-up of all surface transportation lines marked the second day of the Chicago street railway employes' strike. The elevated companies ran occasional trains over part of the system, but these carried few passengers and made irregular stops.

A few minor acts of violence were reported.

Prospects of the United States overseeing the operation of the Oak Park division of the elevated were seen in an order by Federal Judge C. C. Kohlsaat, directing Samuel Insull, receiver for the Oak Park elevated, to resume operations immediately and to report "any unlawful interference or obstruction by any persons whomsoever for such action as the court may deem proper."

With normal transportation means totally paralyzed, Chicago's population today walked to work or rode in automobiles, steam trains or buses which included vehicles of all description ranging from converted ice wagons to huge delivery motor trucks with seats for 40 or 50 passengers.

Traffic Badly Congested.

Down town traffic was worse congested today than ever before and tonight police officials were attempting to work out a scheme to control motor cars in the heart of the city. An effort may be made to keep the cars from entering the downtown streets.

Judge Kohlsaat's order was taken at the instance of Briton I. Budd, president, and Samuel Insull, receiver of the Oak Park elevated.

The Federal Court has charge through the receiver of the operation of the road and the employes of the road are thus employes of the court.

Provision was made in the order for fair treatment of employes who have gone on strike, in the direction that the receiver furnish the court all information as to the facts and circumstances in which the strike was called.

"In exercising its powers over the railroad, the court owes a duty to the employes," the order read, "namely, the duty to see to it they are fairly treated in all respects for they are, for the time being, employes of the court.

"But the court also owes a duty to the public and that is to operate the trains by the best means obtainable. Consequently the receiver is directed to resume operation without delay, employing such men as may be available for the purpose."

Strikebreakers Coming.

Reports from Eastern labor centers are that numerous strike-breakers are on their way here from the East. Several hundred recruited in this city are housed in outlying barns.

The Illinois senate, after a lively session at Springfield today directed the state public utilities commission to make an immediate investigation of the strike with a view to bringing about a settlement.

Theatres and cafes, and baseball and amusement parks were the chief sufferers from the strike.

Tonight for several hours after the close of business, the utmost confusion prevailed about the streets, but by 8 o'clock the railroads and buses had taken care of practically all the homeward bound residents and the downtown streets were virtually deserted save for a few night workers and those who preferred to spend the night in hotels rather than risk not getting down town tomorrow.

STRIKE BREAKERS COMING

Train Load Raid Restaurants and do Other Property Damage En Route

Binghamton, N. Y., June 15.—Seven hundred strike breakers on their way to Chicago who passed through here tonight on a special train, raided a truck load of cream. The police were helpless as the mob swarmed out of the coaches and three forty gallon cans of pure cream valued at about $200, were taken.

One of the leaders called Hornell on the long distance telephone and directed that drinking cups be ready when the train arrived. It was reported that the strike-breakers raided a restaurant in Susequehanna, taking everything but the chairs and counter.

Elmira was notified to have its police department out in full force to stop a probable raid there.

PROF. J. ALLEN HOLT DIED LAST NIGHT, AGED 62 YEARS

Head of Oak Ridge Institute Has Passed Away.

Greensboro, N. C., June 15. — Prof. J. Allen Holt, head of the Oak Ridge Institute, near Greensboro, and one of the prominent educators in the State, died tonight at 8:15 o'clock, at his home at Oak Ridge. Professor Holt was 62 years old.

His brother, Martin H. Holt, died less than a year ago. The two founded and conducted Oak Ridge Institute for almost a generation.

Washington, June 15.—Senator Overman is expected here Saturday, on his way home from Honolulu. He goes to Salisbury Monday.

Dr. Dernberg Sailing Away From America.

Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of the German Empire, who has been in the United States for some months ostensibly interested in the Red Cross, but chiefly concerned with the creation of pro-German sentiment, has sailed away. He didn't admit that his leave was hurried, but it was a foregone conclusion, after his defense of the sinking of the Lusitania that he would not remain much longer. This photograph was taken on board the Norwegian steamship Bergensfjord, in which he was guaranteed safe conduct by all the warring nations.

The doctor would not talk about his leaving. He took the attitude that he had been very successful in his mission in the United States. Many Germans who went to the pier to see him off also believed that.

VILLA AND ZAPATA AGREE UPON TAGLE

As Best Man to Become Provisional President of Mexico

IN MADERO'S CABINET

Was Minister of Justice Under Madero, When Latter Overthrown by Huerta—Only Member of Cabinet Who Didn't Resign.

Washington, June 15. — Manuel Vasques Tagle—minister of justice in the cabinet of Madero since Huerta's coup in February, 1913—virtually has been agreed on by leaders of the Villa-Zapata coalition for the provisional Presidency, should an agreement with the Carranza faction be possible.

Tagle was the only cabinet minister who did not resign when Huerta overthrew the Madero administration. He left Mexico City then and has since lived in the United States.

General Villa's peace overtures to General Carranza have borne no fruit, but such information as has reached here from Vera Cruz indicates that the first chief is unwilling to enter into conferences with his adversaries, insisting that his forces soon will obtain a military supremacy which will merit recognition.

President Wilson told caliers today he believed the situation was shaping itself more definitely in Mexico, but did not reveal the administration's plans.

Urges Carranza to Heed.

Manuel Bonilla, who was minister of communications in Madero's cabinet, gave out tonight a statement urging that General Villa's plan for pacification be met half way by General Carranza. He came to Washington from General Villa's headquarters, bearing the note to the United States commenting favorably on President Wilson's pronouncement for a unification of the warring factions.

The State Department has made representations to both the Carranza and Villa authorities, warning them against molesting foreign oil properties which have been menaced at Tuxpam.

A cablegram received by the Carranza agency here tonight from General Carranza at Vera Cruz, said:

"General Obregon is in Legos. According to medical opinion this wound will be completely healed in eight days."

Obregon lost an arm while directing operations against Villa in the neoghborhood of Leon, recently, and heretofore all reports have referred to his condition as extremely serious.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE WEAKEST IN YEARS

Lowest Levels in Pounds and Francs Recorded in History

OF NEW YORK EXCHANGE

Gold Shipments from Canada and Tokio Announced—Bank of England Releases $10,000,000 Foreign Gold Coin.

New York, June 15.—The prominence and importance of this country as the temporary center of world finance was again demonstrated today when English and French rates of exchange manifested greater weakness than at any time since New York entered seriously into the field of international banking.

Demand sterling declined to 4.76 3-8 and checks on Paris were sold at 5.45 3-4. This puts the buying power of the English pound and French franc in this country at the lowest levels recorded in over 50 years and offers additional proof of the enormous quantity of credits held by American bankers and manufacturers, mainly as a result of the large war orders now under contract.

On the basis quoted today an English pound shows a depreciation of 2 per cent, and francs are at a discount of almost 4 per cent.

Exchange on other European countries approached recent low quotations today. Italian remittances, on very light exchanges, showing a discount of about 15 per cent, while the rate on Petrograd was quoted at a discount of 24 cents. No actual transactions between this market and the Russian capital were reported.

Amsterdam was the only foreign market to manifest any degree of steadiness, a fact ascribed to the purchase of bills on Holland by local bankers who are assumed to have liquidated more American securities for German holders.

Further Depreciation.

There is an increasing realization that rates of exchange between New York and all leading European points must inevitably suffer further depreciation unless London and Paris soon replenish their credits here. So far as is known, no steps in this direction have yet been taken. Rumors of the placing of a large part of a forthcoming British war loan here are denied by those in authority. French bankers are reported to be negotiating the sale of large amounts of American securities by home investors and the proceeds of such a transacton would go far toward restoring the equilibrium between New York and Paris.

In the face of today's disorder in the exchange market more gold came from Canada, making a total of $73,-

"NOT ARMED" IS THE TESTIMONY OF ALL WITNESSES HEARD

Investigation of the Loss of the Lusitania is Begun at London.

FIRST OPEN SESSION

Fifty Survivors and Relatives of the Dead Passengers Attend Hearing.

London, June 15.—Fifty survivors of the Lusitania disaster, together with relatives of passengers who lost their lives and a force of privately-restained lawyers, attended the opening session today of the board of trade inquiry into the destruction of the liner whose sinking by a German submarine May 7 caused a loss of more than 1,000 lives.

The survivors and the relatives of the dead expressed disappointment at the fact that the testimony relating to the admiralty's wireless instructions to the Lusitania were given in camera since they now see small hope that any evidence will be forthcoming to show whether the officers of the ships exercised all precautions to protect the vessel and her passengers. This hope was lessened further by the ruling of Baron Mersey, president of the court of inquiry, that he would pass personally on all questions put to witnesses by outside attorneys. In addition to the survivors and relatives of the dead, there were 36 odd witnesses and perhaps 75 other spectators in the gallery.

Captain Turner, of the Lusitania, was the principal witness today. He appeared to be in good physical condition and in full control of his nerves. His voice was hearty and firm, his manner brisk and his answers prompt.

Passengers Didn't Help

"Interfering, I should say," was Captain Turner's answer to the question of Butler Aspinall one of the Cunard Line counsel, whether the passengers were helping after the explosion, but when asked again if the passengers were doing the best they could the captain replied: "Yes".

It was Barrister Aspinall who wanted to know if the captain saw Alfred Gwinne Vanderbilt. The reply was in the negative.

"Competent enough, but they need more practice," was Captain Turner's opinion of the efficiency of the crew, in reply to represenatives of the ship stewards convention. A Cunard Line attorney then came to the rescue of the witness by asking him if he did not think all modern seamen and stewards were inferior to those of the old sailing ship school. Captain Turner said he preferred the old school every time.

Was Not Armed

Captain Turner said the Lusitania was not armed either for offense or defense, and carried no masked guns.

The captain estimated that ten seconds after the Lusitania was struck it was impossible to stand on deck. He said the three difficulties in rescuing passengers were the list of the ship, her headway which carried her two or three miles after being struck, and the shortness of time.

The captain testified he had given orders to look out for submarines and to proceed at full speed if any were sighted. He said the boats had been swung the morning of the day preceeding the torpedoing. Two lookouts were placed in the crow's nest, two at the bows and two officers on the bridge.

At this juncture the public hearing was suspended, while the court took evidence in camera regarding the instructions of the admiralty.

"The Lusitania was not armed and she never was fited out as a transport," said Sir Edward Carson, in addressing the court at the opening of the inquiry.

Carson Wants Full Inquiry

Sir Edward said he courted the fullest inquiry.

"In their note to Germany," the speaker said, "the United States already have officially denied this, and the evidence I propose to call will confirm and fully prove the remarks of the American government that the Lusitania was not armed, and that she never had been fitted out as a transport.

"Without warning a German submarine fired two torpedoes at the Lusitania, and it is believed a third projectile also was fired.

"Such an act was not only contrary to international law, but it is contrary to the dicates of civilization and humanity. To sink passengers in this manner was a deliberate attempt at murder."

Sir Edward remarked that the question of speed would be important. The Lusitania was going 18 knots using only 19 out of her 25 boilers in consequence of the decrease traffic, thus saving a quarter of her total coal consumption and a proportionate amount in labor. Captain Turner, on the stand verified these figures of the attorney general.

Two Questions Arise

"Certain specific information was sent by the British Admiralty by wireless to the Lusitania, "continued Sir Edward.

"It is quite evident," said the attorney general, "that one of the main questions for the consideration of the court will be these instructions and how far the captain of the Lusitania acted upon them.

"As a rule the first question to be decided in an investigation of this kind is how the accident occurred. In this case we know that there was no accident and that there was a premeditated design to murder. The real

SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS FOR COTTON MADE EASIER

Change Announced by British Embassy Means Much.

Will Facilitate Settlement for Proofs of Ownership and Destination Will Not Have to be Made in England.

Washington, June 15. — Notice was given by the British embassy today that authority had been granted for the settlement and payment at the embassy here and at the consulate general in New York of the claims of American exporters on account of detentions and appropriation of cotton.

"This arrangement will affect many shippers whose cargoes consigned to neutral countries of Europe have been seized under the British order in council. It is expected to facilitate settlements, since proofs of ownership and destination can be submitted and verified much more quickly in the United States than in British ports.

It was said today that progress was being made in negotiations looking to another extension of the time allowed by the British government for the filing of evidence that American owned goods of German origin awaiting shipment to the United States from neutral countries was bought before March 1, last. This time expired today.

Plans have been broached for the separation of goods of unquestioned exemption from seizure from other shipments of doubtful character, and if these can be perfected, it is believed that the British authorities at least will consent to the free movment of the former without being subject to consideration by the prize courts.

Early in the war, the British government had in contemplation the declaration of cotton as absolute contraband, because it is the basis of smokeless powder and gun cotton. Upon urgent representations by the United States that such a declaration would paralyze an American export trade in this staple worth about $800,000,000, Great Britain withheld the threatened action.

KARLSRUHE, BADEN, IS BOMBARDED FROM AIR

Number of People Killed and Much Damage Done.

Property Damage Does Not Affect Military Works of Town is Report—Twenty-Three French Machines Were in Raid.

Karlsruhe, Baden, June 15, via London.—Five hostile airmen bombarded Karlsruhe for 45 minutes this morning. Several persons were killed and wounded.

A number of places suffered material damage, but the destruction wrought has no military importance.

Karlsruhe is on the Rhine, about 75 miles from the French frontier. It has a population of about 100,000 and a number of public buildings of importance.

Paris, June 15. — This official statement concerning the bombardment of Karlsruhe was given out tonight by the French war office:

"In retaliation for the bombardment by the Germans of French and English open towns, the order was given to bombard this morning the capital of the Grand Duchy of Baden. At 3 o'clock in the morning 23 aeroplanes set out for Karlsruhe.

"Although caught by a northwest wind, they arrived over the town between 5:50 and 6:20 o'clock. They dropped 130 projectiles of 90 and 155 calibls on the objects which had been indicted to them, particularly the chateau, an arms manufactory and the station. Many fires broke out during the time the aeroplanes were flying over Karlsruhe. A serious panic was observed in the station, from which the trains departed hastily, proceeding in an easterly direction.

"The machines were subjected to a violent gun-fire, particularly on their outer trip, at Saverne (Zabern), Strassburg, Rastatt and Karlruhe, and on their return at Blamont, Phalsbourg (Pfalsbourg) and Saverne. All returned except two."

DARKNESS INTERRUPTS THE QUALIFYING ROUND

Of Southern Golf Association's Tournament

Only 54 Out of 215 Golfers from All Southern States Succeeded in Negotiating the 18 Holes in 93 or Lower.

Atlanta, Ga., June 15.—Darkness tonight interrupted the qualifying round of the Southern Golf Association's 14th annual tournament here, with 19 contestants still upon the course. The tournament rules committee ruled that of these only four would have finished with scores of 94 or better, and ordered that these players complete their cards tomorrow.

Of the 215 golfers from practically every section of the South who entered the tournament early today, only 54 succeeded in negotiating the 18 holes in 93 or lower. These with 10 players to be selected from the 17 who turned in cards of 94, will make up the winning 64 who will begin match play for championship honors tomorrow. The lucky ten will be determined by hole competition early tomorrow, according to announcement by the rules committee tonight.

Although the weather was perfect today and the course in admirable condition, scores generally were regarded as unusually high.

Tomorrow morning the first round of elimination match play will begin, the winners of the morning round meeting in the afternoon to determine the 16 players who will form the championship flight. The losing 16 will compose the second flight. The 32 players defeated in the morning will be matched in the afternoon to determine the third and fourth flights.

DUPLIN COUNTY BOY JOINS CONNIE MACK'S ATHLETICS

Chapel Hill, N. C. June 15.—Marshall Williams, for two years a pitcher on Carolina's team, has gone to Philadelphia and will be with Connie Mack's men for the year. Williams has developed remarkably since his entrance into college athletics and there is every indication that he will make a valuable addition to Mack's star aggregation. He will probably be used to help the regular men get their "batting eye", but as the youngster takes advantage of Mack's superb coaching facilities and grows older, the prediction is that he will make good. Williams is from Faison, Duplin county, and is a senior.

THEATRICAL

All new show at the Victoria Theatre today. Spick and span will be the new offering which the popular Almedore Musical Comedy Company will dish up in stylish way at the Victoria today and, by the way, this organization is one great big hit. It is the dandiest musical gem that has ever sparkled at the Victoria and amusement-lovers have already appreciated it to the extent of crowding the Victoria, in order to enjoy themselves and to also show their appreciation of the Victoria's change in giving them a season of musical comedy that precisely fits the weather. Something light, bright and merry is what's wanted this kind of weather and it can now be found at the Victoria, Wilmington's handsomest and most modernly appointed playhouse. The conditions are also just ripe for the good old summer time, as the theatre is the cool spot of the city. It is electrically cooled and perfectly ventilated, thus affording a refreshing retreat these hot afternoons and evenings. For this reason especially the theatre is magnetic to the ladies and children who daily flock to the matinee, knowing that they will witness something wholesome, as well as highly entertaining. The matinee prices are tiny, too, being but 5 cents for children and 10 cents for adults. The night scale, however, is but 10 and 20 cents.

The new offering being presented at matinee this afternoon for the first time, will be "The Culture Club," and it is a scream for fun and a big outburst of melody, in which the sprightly chorus is a big feature. Don't miss it, if you would be happy.

"The Black Box"—Bijou.

With the 10th thrilling episode of "The Black Box" entitled "The Ship of Horror" at the Bijou today, beginning at 11 A. M., the real "beginning of the end" of this spectacular serial comes. Another horrible murder is committed on board "the ship of horror," by a dose of poison that was intended for Sanford Quest, going to a lady passenger by the merest accident. Craig seems to have disappeared from the ship—no one knows where. The most thorough searches fail to reveal his whereabouts. But Laura is still quite certain he is aboard.

And right now it may be time to tell the many fans who are following this serial that there is some great surprise in store before the 15th chapter is reached. There are several unexpected turns, and it may safely be said that everyone will be totally surprised at one or more of them. Each chapter from today on will contain a gradual untangling of the threads of the story, until the final chapter, five weeks from today, the great mystery will be solved.

Violet Mersereau and William Garwood come today also in one of those great two-reel comedy drama features, "You Can't Always Tell." You remember this popular pair in their last big one, and this two-reel story gives them both ample opportunity for some exceptional work. Then there's that notable offering, said to be the greatest single-reel heart-interest drama of the age, "Their Golden Wedding," featuring old Daddy Manley, of "The Master Key" with "Mother" Benson, in the leading roles. Don't miss it.

At The Grand Today.

In "Sally Castleton, Southerner" the Edison three reel specials showing at the Grand today, the incomparable screen pair Miriam Nesbitt and Marc Mac Dermott are seen in a dashing, adventurous romance of the Civil War times. Miss Nesbitt a Southern girl by birth looks and lives the part while Marc Mac Dermott always a compelling cavalier is at his best as the soldier whom Fate has placed as a spy in a cause fighting against that of his sweetheart.

The Beauty comedy "The Once Over is the story of two love sick young men both madly in love with the same "girl" and one finally persuades her to elope with him but what an awakening he finds the "girl" has been married before and has five children that are sadly in need of a father.

The Hearst Selig weekly will be of particular interest to the local bowlers as the champion lady bowler of the world is shown in the Boston Bowlers Tournament, this together with many other important events makes this Hearst Selig a very fine number on today's programme.

ROCKY MOUNT TAKES BOTH FROM NORFOLK

Norfolk Takes Third Place in Virginia League While Down Homers Move Up to Second—Attendance Nearly 2,000

(Special Star Telegram)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 15—Norfolk was given undisputed third place in the percentage column this afternoon while the Down Homers moved up to second for a tighter grip when the visitors fell before Pope and Teague in a double bill. Eleven to two was the final windup of a swat fest for the Tar Heels in the first one, while the second was a five to nothing seven inning affair. Nearly two thousand fans overflowed the stands and on to the field for the largest single day's business since the league opened.

In the first game, Edwards, the second man up, sent one of Humphrey's benders over the garden wall for a homer and this started trouble that finally resulted in the fellows being called to the dugout and Weller sent in his stead; nor was Weller equal to the emergency and he suffered an almost incessant rain of hits and the Tar Heels scored almost at will. For the second class, Humphreys was sent back to have his opposing southpaw pitcher, Teague, annex a safe lead when he thumped a home run drive out of the park. Two more runs were added by the Down Homers before the seven inning clash was ended.

Only once was Teague in danger of being scored upon and with second and third occupied he brought a round of cheers that lasted for several minutes when he retired Thrasher on strikes, for he is regarded here as one of the best clean up hitters in the circuit. Biddle featured the contest with a great racing catch of a drive which he tucked away for one of the greatest catches of the year on the local lot.

WE SHALL HAVE STOCK LAW MAP OF THE STATE

County Superintedents in Session at Wadesboro

State Insurance Department Makes Good Showing—Wake Commissioners Fix Rules for Convict Whipping—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 15.—There has never been worked out in the State any definite showing as to just what proportion of the State is under the no-fence or stock law and through the co-operation of the new State Legislative Library, W. S. Wilson, librarian, and the division of cattle quarantine of the Department of Agriculture, there is to be such a definite showing made and an accurate map showing the fence and no fence sections and localities. Mr. Wilson will compile all acts for stock law and these will be developed and worked out on the map and figured as to the relative proportions. Officials of the quarantine division believe that it is a matter of only a very few years now until no fence law will be State-wide.

County Superintendents Meet.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and L. C. Brogden, N. C. Newbold and A. S. Brower, of the State Department of Education, have gone to Wadesboro to take part in an annual session of the district association of county superintendents of public schools in session there this week. Dr. Joyner says that these district meetings of the county superintendents are proving the means of greatly advancing the interests of the schools and inspiring the superintendents to greater and better directed effort for the furtherence of the work for the schools and the individual school communities.

Rules for Convict Whipping.

As a result of recent agitation and difficulty with the State Prisoners' Aid Society, the Wake county commissioners have adopted a set of rules for the government of the county convict camps that specifies that in future convicts shall not be whipped except through order of the board or the chairman after application and statement of facts as to misconduct transmitted to the board through the county road engineer, who is specified as directly in control of the camps.

Collector of Internal Revenue J. W. Bailey has returned from Washington where he conferred with Commissioner of Revenue Osborne, Collector Watts, of the Western district, and Senator Simmons as to the status of the two Carolina districts in the matter of the movement that is on in the United States Revenue department to cut down operating expenses that would include, wherever possible, the dropping of field or office men whose services could possibly be dispensed with without embarrassing the service. Mr. Bailey confirms the report from Washington that it was settled in the conference that none of the 70-odd men now in the service in this State regularly will be dropped and that the economies that will be inaugurated in this State will be in the matter of expense accounts for special possemen and others usually called into service to aid in the raids against blockaders and other work.

Insurance Commissioner's Report.

Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young has ready to distribute throughout the State the advance sheets of his forthcoming annual report for the year ending April 1, 1915. In the letter of transmission to Governor Craig the Commissioner says that the revenue that the department collected for the State during the year aggregated $352,047, a gain of $7,500 over the previous year. He says the gradual and constant increase in the revenue to the State through his department is more strikingly shown by the fact that the increase has been from $84,879, the first year of the department ending April 1, 1899. Still the commissioner expresses confidence that the State is really derving more actual benefit from the supervision and the regulation of the insurance companies through the department than from the actual revenue collected.

BODY OF ARTHUR GREER WASHED ASHORE AND FOUND

Lad Was Drowned Near Southport 7th. Revival Meetings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., June 15.—The remains of little Arthur Greer, whose sad drowning occurred on the 7th inst., as noted by your correspondent, were found today on the shore just above the city. There has been a continued sadness in this community since the drowning, pending the recovery of the little boy's body and its burial.

This is the second week of the daily series of religious meetings which are being conducted in the Methodist church, led by Rev. H. A. Humble, of Kinston, assisted by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Lance, the singing at the services being under the direction of Mr. Lipsie, of Atlanta. Large congregations are in attendance. Mr. Humble is a speaker of power and conviction, his sermons appealing strongly to the hearer's mind and reason, rather than to the sentiment and passion of the strictly exhortative, revival style. He is making a deep and serious religious appeal that is affecting young and old. Pastors and members of all local churches are in attendance.

Today a series of mission services began in St. Phillips' Episcopal church here. These will be conducted each afternoon and night daily, through next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Matthews, of Greenville, N. C., will have the services in charge.

Miss Grace Watts Married, That's All

GOLDSBORO GIRL WHO MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED, LEFT OF HER OWN ACCORD TO MARRY IN PETERSBURG.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 15.—Mr. R. A. Watts, father of Miss Grace Watts, who mysteriously disappeared from her home in this city last week, has located his daughter in Petersburg, Va., through a letter which he received from her on a late train last night, stating that she had been married in that city last Sunday.

The affair was kept quiet and the disappearance of Miss Grace was not generally known till yesterday when the father of the young girl made the affair public and gave a local newspaper man full particulars of the case and asked him to have them published in the State papers. After hearing from his daughter, he called several of the papers over the 'phone at a late hour last night and had the story cancelled.

When interviewed by a reporter this morning, Mr. Watts stated he had nothing to give out concerning his daughter, whom he thought yesterday morning had been kidnaped, but now was satisfied that she had left home upon her own accord. The disappearance of the young woman caused a sensation in this city, as Miss Watts is a beautiful young girl not yet out of her teens, and very popular.

John Paschal, Pump Superintendent at Contentnea Junction, Struck by Cylinder Head

(Special Star Correspondence)

Wilson, N. C. June 15.—John W. Paschal was struck by a south bound passenger train on the Atlantic Coast Line this morning and instantly killed. The accident was at Contentnea Junction where Mr. Paschal was in charge of the pumping station. It seems that Mr. Paschal stepped from the north bound track to avoid a train and in doing so failed to get entirely away from the train going in the other direction. He was struck by the cylinder head of the engine.

The body was brought to a local undertaker to be prepared for burial before being taken to the Paschal home near the Junction. Burial services will be held Wednesday. Mr. Paschal was one of the well known citizens with a large family connection and leaves a wife and children.

All Babies Destined to Great Achievement

To be born is to be great. For there are possibilities in every tiny human infant. And for this reason every one should remember that whatever is done to aid the mother, to relieve her of distresses during her trying months, will surely be of marked benefit to the child.

Among the sterling aids is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend." It is what is called an embrocation. It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in by your own hand guided by your own mind. It makes the muscles pliant, they expand quite naturally and the effect upon the nerves is such that they adjust themselves to the process of expansion so that pain from this source is almost eliminated. Women who use "Mother's Friend" refer to the absence of morning sickness, they are relieved of a great many minor distresses, all apprehension disappears and those peculiar nervous "fidgets" no longer disturb the nights. It is well named "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any druggist. Then at once write for a most entertaining and instructive book for all prospective mothers. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 705 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

TOP O' THE MORNING

It is only in poor men and in the lower things that success increases self-conceit. In every high work and in men worthy of it, success is always sure to bring humility.
—PHILLIPS BROOKS—"Heartsease."

'Twas well timed.

The best way to put an embargo on whatever you desire to make contraband is to get you a big navy.

Viva da banan! Sella da banan and getta da mon. Avanti, Oestra! Italia della guerra, signor. Tutti fruti! American mia patria.

Turkey may disappear from the map but she is resisting in a way that the map will know that it had a hard time to get rid of her.

Some people are not worrying very much about the war in Europe. They are worrying more about some other war that is liable to occur in the next ten years.

Every fellow thinks his method is absolutely without a bunghole, and bedadburn if he'll be foolish enough to consent to any other plan than the one he has mapped out to stay mapped out.

About the time that people in various parts of Florida begin to think of Jacksonville as a lovely place, the Times-Union makes Jacksonville look like Averna by urging that the state capital be moved to that city.

A lecturer on temperance says "one drink calls for another". However, the other drink is too far away to answer the call. It is more than apt to be up in Virginia awaiting orders to come to the front where it can hear.

An Iowa college professor has been delivering a series of lectures on the microbiology of sauer kraut. We would much prefer to hear a Boston lady professor deliver a lecture on the farinaciousness and sacharinity of icecream in which the mere trace of lactic constituent is scarcely discernable.

The Sultan of Turkey has decided to call himself Mohammed the Victorious. He should refrain from picking out any kind of title whatsoever till he is sure that a foreign real estate agent soon is not going to stick up a rent sign on the harem. Wathful waiting till it's all over is the safest policy we ever jotted down on the record of current events.

In Japan the head of the family is so revered that the balance of the family does not want him to strike a lick of work. That is a perfectly lovely custom, but in America it would not amount to a hill of beans to father. He wouldn't even dare to slow down on work as if he were about to imbibe the Japanese idea that he is the head of the family.

We can furnish plenty of guncotton, powder, projectiles, machine guns, handgrenades, and all sorts of explosives, so any or all of the belligerents can draw on us for munitions with which to slaughter each other. Nevertheless, they continue to shock us by resorting to gas, flaming liquid and submarines. They ought to know that they cannot possibly kill as many of each other by that means as they can by the use of what is "Made in America". The only thing we cannot make for them is a hundred thousand volcanoes equal to Mt. Pelee.

A goat and a man both have whiskers and each often chews the rag when there isn't a thing in it for him. The probability is that a goat is only a burlesque artist and simply chews the rag without any flow of conservation, in order to illustrate how absolutely absurd the whole performance actually is. A great many men who think they are smart could learn something from a goat if they would only imitate Billy's characteristic imperturbability. We defy any university professor to point to a single instance showing that a goat ever had to be carried to a hospital to be treated for nervous prostration.

WHERE WAR HURTS AGAIN.

Hark, a doleful sound! With cotton mills compelled to run day and night to meet the demand for textiles, there is a great opportunity for rapid recovery in the South, if it will keep up, but many manufacturers are forecasting one more blow that will come to Southern interests because of the war in Europe. The Star is informed that the cotton mills at Lumberton are operating day and night, and a Star adjunct just returned from Charlotte says there is hustle and bustle there, probably because of the revival of industry. Anyhow, people in Charlotte seem to be wearng smiles and new clothes and the throngs on the streets indicate prosperous conditions compared with several months ago.

In fact, throughout the cotton milling districts of the South, there has been revival strangely in contrast with centers that have no considerable industrial interests. The busy manufacturers, however, are facing a dyestuff crisis because of the war, and for lack of colorings no new contracts can be booked by many mills. Such is the case at Greensboro, where it is more than likely that thousands of mill operatives will soon be idle. Leastwise, this disappointing note is sounded by the Greensboro Record, of yesterday:

"White Oak and Proximity cotton mills must close down about August 1, according to a statement from Mr. Cone, published in this paper. This brings the war mighty close home. The local mills, feeding 12,000 people, are not the only ones in North Carolina affected as evilly. With a demand for finished goods as great if not greater than normal, the factories are being forced to discontinue production because of the lack of dyestuffs. The news is bad news for Greensboro, but not unexpected. Mr. Ceasar Cone stated through this paper several months ago that the shut-down was inevitable, unless some unforeseen deliverance came. The deliverance did not appear, the war has not ended, and the embargo of the Allies prevents the free transportation of the German indigo and coal tar dyes which cannot be made in America without years of preparation. The Messrs. Cone may have some plan for taking care of their villagers or they may not, but it is a safe prediction that the management of the mills will minimize the suffering of the operatives to the extent of their ability. The crisis of the shut-down in any industry is always tragic to the employe and when as many thousands are vitally affected as in the case of the local closing, it is indeed serious."

Such a condition as is forecasted by The Record would indicate that in the midst of prospective prosperity we will be in dearth, unless the dye crisis can be relieved within the next few weeks. Probably, however, it is better to be optimistic and hope that the new dye factories in the United States will be able largely to relieve the dye shortage. As proof of the far-reaching effects of such a great war as Europe has, The Record remarks:

"Nowadays we are able to closely follow the course from cause to effect or to trace backwards from effect to cause, as the case may be. As we have been bound closer together on earth, all the people have become interdependent in industry and commerce. America has depended upon Germany for dyes because Germany was making them at a price which did not encourage domestic capitalists to invest a billion dollars for perfecting plants. At the present time we will suffer by this dependence and learn anew that the trouble of one race is trouble for all."

People ought to know that by now, or they ought to be able to learn something about the economic effect of war in Europe on American prosperity, but there are plenty of Republicans in North Carolina who pretend to believe that the war is a Democratic excuse for bad industrial conditions, while otherwise contending that our billion dollar trade balance, to be shown by June 30, is due to the war and not to the Democratic administration. If they would only admit both economic facts, as wise Democrats do, North Carolina Republicans would get insulted when a certain class of politicians in their party take them for know-nothings.

STIMULUS FOR MILLING INDUSTRY.

One of the natural consequences of the quickened grain growing industry in North Carolina is that it lays the foundation for another industrial development in the way of roller flour mills and grist mills for manufacturing corn meal, grits, stock feed, etc. The mills in their turn will create local demand for wheat and corn, and that will stimulate the grain growing industry. Grain growing and milling will promote cattle raising and the livestock industry generally, and so it goes, a triple economic result evoluting along collateral lines. Thus, growing grain is not all there is to it, nor is milling all there is to it, nor is producing milk and butter and beef and pork all there is to it.

From all sides The Star gets cheering reports that in North and South Carolina record grain and forage crops have been produced. It is said that more wheat and corn will be produced in this section this year than for years past. Mr. A. C. Johnston, editor of the Lumberton Tribune, tells us that Robeson county will not only produce an immense corn crop but that a largely increased wheat crop has been grown and harvested. One result of the increased wheat crop is that the roller flour mill at Pembroke will resume operations. The mill was built several years ago by the Farmers' Union of Robeson county, but operatons have been suspended for three or four years because the mill could not get a sufficient local supply of wheat.

However, the Pembroke mill will be started up with the prospect of getting a considerable wheat supply from Robeson county and several adjoining counties in North and South Carolina. Success depends upon milling knowledge and marketing genius, once a supply of wheat is available, but it can be ventured that the agricultural revolution will soon settle that matter.

It should be remembered by the milling interests that if the local supply of wheat and corn is not sufficient to keep their mills going, they can get wheat and corn by the carload at low rates from distant points in the South and West, provided, of course, necessary capital is back of the enterprise. Milling-in-transit rates doubtless might be secured from the railroads, as it would give them new traffic that otherwise they would not have. They would get traffic both ways, on grain going to the mill and flour and meal going away.

Let us hope a new era has come in the South, and we know it comes here to stay if we can handle the milling and marketing questions right. We are satisfied that we cannot do that all at once, but sooner or later experience will bring the efficiency that will meet the entire situation. No reasonable man can doubt that grain growng, milling and livestock raising will greatly develop our rich agricultural resources. There are great possibilities for independence and prosperity in it, and perseverence and intelligence will be sure to score success for us.

EUROPE TAKING OUR COTTON MANUFACTURES

Instead of cotton goods coming to the United States in larger volume, they are going to Europe in larger quantities than ever before. That is another notable economic result of the war and it accounts for the present prosperity of the cotton mills. Large exports of cotton cloth of all descriptions have been going to Europe from New York and other Northern ports, and, of course, much of the textiles exported are made in the South. The contractors and commission men draw their supplies fro mall quarters they are chiefly concentrated in New York for shipment abroad. Referring to carload shipments of goods by Southern cotton mills, the Charlotte Observer speaks in this optimistic manner:

"The Southern cotton mill men are not given to much talk when it comes to handing out information as to what they are doing, but their car-lot trade with foreign countries gives indications of shortly growing into trainload quantities. The Observer hears of several mills that are loading cars for export. It is quite likely that the Southern mills are figuring in the increased exports reported since the beginning of April, for foreign trade returns have been showing an increase at a rate that, so The New York Post reports, is attracting attention in and out of Wall Street. The returns show that in April for the first time since the war began, we sent more goods to other than European countries than we did a year ago. The increase was $7,800,000; South America taking $1,900,000 more, and Asia $6,100,000. The Post says this again suggests the question, what would be the outcome in the imaginable case that we should largely expand our manufactured trade with neutral States, in the later months of 1915, while feeding Europe from our grain crops and sending several hundred millions worth of war munitions?"

Certainly the Southern cotton mills are filling orders for Northern shipment, thence to be sent to Europe, South America and other countries where the war makes it necessary for dependence upon America. That will be the case for some time, and it is quite evident that our exports of cotton goods will continue to increase so long as the manufacturers can get dyes.

HUMANITY MUST APPEAL TO PEACE.

Humanity's appeal must be to the ear of peace. Humanity's appeal to war would be a mockery. War would answer with more inhumanity that could not atone for previous inhumanity.

When the world beats its swords into plowshares, the land smiles in the midst of abundance. When the world beats its plowshares into swords, the land goes to waste and mourns. Billowing the earth with the untimely graves of men can never serve the cause of humanity so effectually as furrowing the earth for food crops that keep humanity from being hungry.

"War is hell," and anything that's hell can be no arbiter in the cause of humanity. When man wishes to be cool he wants a gentle breeze. He would not invoke a tornado when he knows the difference.

Contemporaries utterly ignorant of pronouncing in Russian are giving all sorts of ways for pronouncing P-r-z-e-m-y-s-l. After a Russian friend of ours pronounced it for us and showed us how we could do it, we wanted to kick ourselves for not being able to see through it all along. In Russian, he says, "P" is "Pa" and "z" has the sould of "szh", while "ysl" is "il", so that spelled out it is Parszhemil, with the accent on "szhem". In other words, if we did not want to appear pedantic and give the "z" the Russian sound, we could pronounce it Parsemil. That's as easy as falling off a log when you are sad and weary and trying to take a nap. Without any affectation whatsoever, we have gotten used to pronouncing it Parszhemil. Sounds almost as beautiful as Swannanoa or Minnehaha.

Said Froude: "Human improvement is from within outward." One great difference between Froude and a legislature is that a legislature has an idea that laws can make better people within. Compelling people to be good when they are not is a new philosophy that does not leave it to them to improve by means of having their consciences awakened.

The Star recently predicted that more unexpected, surprising and startling things would happen when they were least expected. They have. Having peered into the future for a distance which appears to be three meters, we now predict that Colonel Bryan has no idea of writing a war song for Colonel Roosevelt.

THE EMERGENCY SHELF

By Mary Jane McClure.

As disburser of the family income, the housewife has always performed an economic function, the true importance of which she is just beginning to realize.

It is not the income but the amount of real life value one obtains by the judicious expenditure of that income that really counts. Those who eat proper food, make comfortable homes, read good books and hear good music on a small amount are getting infinitely more real life value than the careless distributors of larger incomes.

True economy in the home can only be acquired at the expenditure of careful planning. What hostess has not yielded to the temptation of rash, thoughtless extravagance in moments of flurry and unpreparedness?

When unexpected guests arrive, the hostess naturally wishes to entertain them and to get her share of pleasure from the visit, but that matter of "what to eat" makes her ill at ease. She phones wildly for this and that or rushes into the kitchen almost as soon as the guests are seated. Late, in taking stock, she finds that she has spent more than was warrantable and that the refreshments offered were needlessly lavish or sadly one-sided and that—she had lost her visit.

The hostess backed by a well stocked emergency shelf and menus planned to fit any occasion, opens her door to the party of friends who "just drop in" with absolute joy. She comfortably visits with her guests for she knows she can serve dainty, satisfying refreshment in a twinkling from her emergency shelf.

The picnic opportunities of a glorious day may be grasped without worry or undue expenditure.

The spontaneous desire that often comes at the last moment to informally invite a few friends in for the evening or for Sunday tea need bring no worry about refreshments. It is a positive comfort to know that that emergency shelf is ready for any occasion.

On the emergency shelf there should be fruits, sweet as well as plain crackers, pickles, nut meats and bouillon cubes.

Canned chicken, soups and meats, now so highly recommended by food experts, from the basic of this stock. These products when put up by a reliable firm are as carefully inspected as in your own kitchen and are scientifically prepared by cooking experts.

A case of Grape Juice will answer the call of almost all emergencies. Keep the cookie jar well supplied and with a can of pure leaf lard on hand to mix up quick pastries and to cook croquettes, etc., let come who will.

When buying the emergency stock be sure that every can of meat bears this guarantee—U. S. Inspected and Passed. The consumers' greatest protection lies in purchasing a brand put out only by a house of national reputation.

Appetizing Emergency Dishes.

Chipped Beef, Creamed—Cut one can of chipped beef into small pieces and put into frying pan with one cup of hot water. Dissolve one heaping tablespoon of flour in a little cold milk; add one beaten egg and enough milk to make one pint. Put all in pan with beef and cook fifteen minutes, being careful that it does not scortch. Serve on toast fingers.

Bean Loaf—To one can of pork and beans, add one cup of creamed potatoes, one well beaten egg and one small onion chopped fine. Season to taste. Form into a loaf, dust well with cracker crumbs and bake until nicely browned. Slice and serve either hot or cold with salad dressing.

Cabinet Croquettes—Take a half cup of bacon sliced thin and cut into cubes. Fry until crisp and put with it one can of Veal Loaf, one teaspoon of onion juice, one cayenne and a dash of nutmeg. Mix all together with a white sauce and season to taste. Mold and dip into bread crumbs and fry in hot leaf lard.

Tomato Surprise—Peel six medium sized tomatoes, and remove the hard pieces around the stem ends to make tomato cups. Dice the contents of one tine of beef loaf and add one cup of finely chopped celery. Mix well and fill the cups. Lay an olive and a bit of pimento on top of each, garnish with mayonnaise, and serve in lettuce leaves arranged as petals around the tomatoes.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"The example of John Randolph," wrote Thomas Jefferson, "is a caution to all honest and prudent men to sacrifice a little of self-confidence and to go to their friends, although they may sometimes think they are going wrong." Unless Mr. Bryan has repudiated the father of American Democracy, he will notice that he addressed his remark to "all honest and prudent men."—New York World.

There are quite a number of excellent wheat fields in the country and it is said that Dillon's first wheat crop will be far above the average, large and small patches of wheat have been planted in various sections. Archie Fore has a small field near town that promises to make 35 or 40 bushels to the acre and there are several large fields in the county where it is claimed the yield will be larger. If reports from different parts of the county have not been exaggerated Dillon will have good reason to be proud of her first wheat crop.—Dillon Herald.

There has been rapid development in the live stock industry in North Carolina the past few years, a fact that cannot fail to impress itself upon the minds of all who read the printed report of the second annual meeting of the Live Stock Associations of the State, in Statesville. The report is in book form and is finely illustrated. The Associations embrace beef breeders, dairymen, hog breeders and sheep raisers. The latter had been generally considered a lagging industry, but there is in the Western North Carolina Sheep Breeders' Association alone a membership of 52, including two women farmers. The territory seems mostly restricted to Beaver Creek and Grassy Creek, but Jefferson is strongly represented.—Charlotte Observer.

There was a time in 1898 when Mr. Bryan's voice was for war. Defeated two years before for the Presidency, he was among the most active of our militants when the dispute over Cuba with Spain became acute. As colonel of the justly celebrated Third Nebraska regiment, Mr. Bryan chafed and fretted in camp and he, in company with many of his friends, complained bitterly because President McKinley did not order him to the front. The fear then was that a hostile administration would not give him an opportunity to see service. The fear that has been operating of late is that a friendly administration might call upon him to sign a document asserting American rights and a purpose to maintain them.—New York World.

Predictions that it will be easy to talk from San Francisco to Honolulu by wireless telephone meet no skepticism. If Marconi can see through a wall with his new invention there is no reason to say that it is impossible to talk through an ocean, especially since some very successful tests, although over much shorter distances, than that from San Francisco to Honolulu, have been made. The world is accustomed to wonders. The wire telephone is so commonplace that the wireless telephone does not seem very wonderful. The latter may some day be in general use, but unless there is a means of preventing thousands of persons from listening in on conversations over it the wire telephone will be preferred by most folks. When a word is spoken into the wireless 'phone, just as when a message is sent from a wireless telegraph station, it can be received by any properly equipped receiving station anywhere within range, and just as it is necessary to limit the use of wireless and prevent the "clogging" of the air, so the development of the wireless telephone is likhtly to cause its use to be strictly regulated.—Savannah News.

PROGRAMME OF STATE SHOOT HERE IN JUNE

Under Auspices of the New Hanover Gun Club.

Events Will Continue for Two Days on Local Grounds—Many Expert Shots Expected—Handsome Trophies are Offered.

Dr. J. H. Dreher, secretary of the New Hanover Gun Club, under whose auspices the North Carolina State shoot will be held June 29th and 30th, is sendng out programmes of the 12th annual shoot to interested persons throughout the State. He has already received a number of letters from expert shots stating that they will be here for the events. Mr. George S. Boylan is president of the local gun club and he and the two other members of the organization are assisting Dr. Dreher in making arrangements for the shoot.

The Seashore Hotel at Wrightsville Beach and the Orton in Wilmington will be headquarters for the shooters. On account of the reduced rates which will be in force from all points to Wilmington for summer travel it is expected that the attendance will be quite large. The shoot will take place on the grounds of the New Hanover Gun Club in East Wilmington.

The Interstate Association and the New Hanover club have added $400 in cash and trophies which will be divided among those making the best showing in the various events.

Prior to the opening of the shoot on Tuesday, June 29th, a practice shoot will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for 100 targets. The trophy for amateur high gun has been donated by the Tidewater Power Company. The shooting will begin at 9 A. M. each day.

There will be 13 events on the first day, each being for 20 targets. The entrance fee for each event is $2 and there will be $10 added money. Purse will be divided on per cent system. Class shooting, 35 per cent, 25 per cent, 20 per cent and 20 per cent.

On the second day there will be seven events, each for 20 targets. The entrance fee for each event is $20 and $10 added money for each. Purse will be divided on same scale as on first day.

A special event will be the Inter-State Association's Amateur State Championship. One hundred single targets, 16 yards rise, high guns win. Open only to bona fide residents of North Carolina. There will be eight events of 100 targets. The entrance fee will be $5 with $75 added money.

Seven trophies will be awarded in the Interstate Amateur State Championship event to the winners of the first seven places, and $50 in cash to the winner of the State championship, (or to the runner up in the event the winner cannot attend the Grand American Handicap Tournament), conditional on said winner or runner-up making entry and competing in the National Amateur Championship in the Grand American Handicap.

Contestants will be allowed to shoot for targets only in any and all events. While non-residents of the State are not allowed to compete in the State championship, they are allowed to shoot and participate in the purse.

Ties in the State championship event will be shot off in 20-bird events. The right is reserved to postpone shoot for weather or other conditions. Twenty-five dollars will be divided among high guns for the entire programme.

NEWMAN'S CAFE REMOVED

Everglade and Junction Landmarks on Princess Street Consolidated

Opening bright and early this morning the Everglade and Junction cafes, which have been landmarks on Princess street, since a time "when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary", will be consolidated and bloom forth under the name of "Newman's Cafe," occupying the quarters formerly occupied by the Everglade.

Mr. J. T. Newman, the proprietor of the cafe, has had the place nicely fitted up, affording both lunch counter and table d'hote service for his guests. For ten days or longer workmen have been busy completely overhauling the place, putting in sanitary fixtures and appliances and Mr. Newman lays claim to the most sanitary and up-to-date restaurant ever conducted in Wilmington. Lunches and regular meals will be served beginning with today.

CITY FATHERS TODAY

Committee May Report on Matters of Better Lights

The committee recently appointed to look into the advisability of putting a more modern lighting system in the down town section of the city as petitioned for by over 300 representative business men of the city, may make report this morning to City Council which meets in its regular weekly session.

DION'T LIKE COUNTY FARM

Leonard Sterne and A. H. Melton Took "French Leave" Yesterday Afternoon—Not Apprehended.

Young Leonard Sterne, who was sentenced Monday by the Recorder to serve 12 months on the county farm, did not like his surroundings evidently as yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, accompanied by another white youth, A. H. Melton, he escaped and had not been apprehended at a late hour last night. Immediately after learning of the escape of the two young men from the farm, Mr. Rasberry, the superintendent, notified the county officers.

Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly and Special Officer H. Mack Godwin learned that the two men had gone down the public road towards Castle Haynes and they went as far as that place in an automobile but failed to find any trace of them. They returned via the Gordon road and made a close search. It is believed that the two youngsters are in hiding near the farm and that they will likely be apprehended today.

County Solicitor Pescnau protested against sending Sterne to the county farm when the latter was convicted Saturday of a charge of blackmail. He declared that it would be quite easy for an able-bodied man to make his escape because of the lack of guards. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., attorney for Sterne, thought that a year was too long a sentence and asked that it be made shorter.

After hearing the contentions of both attorneys, the Recorder reserved judgment until Monday. As Sterne appeared to be in rather delicate health, it seemed to be too much of a hardship to send him to the county roads and so the Recorder decided to send him to the farm instead.

It has always been a problem for the Recorder to know just what to do with youths convicted of criminal offenses, as the county farm is not adequately equipped to look after them properly. However, there is nowhere else to send them except to jal or the county roads.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR TEARING DOWN BUILDINGS.

Clark-Lynch Lumber Company Given Job of Clearing Custom House Site.

Unofficial advices from Washington yesterday stated that the Clark-Lynch Lumber Company and Mr. Sol Sternberger, of this city, had been awarded the contract by the Treasury Department for clearing the site for the Wilmington custom house and appraisers' stores, preparatory to the erection of the new $600,000 edifice. The bid submitted was for $4,900.

Col. Walker Taylor, collector of customs, was out of the city yesterday but it was stated at the office of the Custom House that no advices had been received from Washington regarding the awarding of the bids. Mr. H. A. Lynch said last night that he had heard nothing regarding the contract but said that in the event that his concern had been given the contract they were ready to begin work immediately.

The original specifications for proposals for tearing away the old structures provided that work should begin on June 1st and must be completed by September 1st. However, in view of the delay in awarding the contract it is expected that the contractors will be given until the latter part of September to complete clearing the site.

It is expected that, before the site is ready for beginning work on the new structure, the contract will have been awarded for this work also.

The tearing down of these buildings will provide work for a number of men and will aid materially in aiding in the solution of providing employment for those without work. With this end in view Colonel Taylor and other interested citizens have exercised every effort to hasten the beginning of work in making preparation for the erection of the new structure which when completed will be the handsomest edifice in Wilmington.

SEASON TICKETS FOR CHAUTAUQUA AT LOW PRICE

Reduced Rates Will be Continued Until Saturday of This Week

Season tickets for admission to all the lectures and addresses and other attractions of the Baptist Seaside Chautauqua, which begins at the Oceanic Hotel at Wrightsville Beach next Monday and will continue through the following Sunday, are being sold by the pastors of the Baptist churches in Wilmington and members of the churches at the extremely low rate of $1 each. The charge for admission to all the attractions if paid singly, will amount to over $3, or three times the cost of the season tickets.

The sale of the season tickets will continue until Saturday of this week and after that time no more will be sold, it was stated yesterday. The local committee on arrangements has agreed to furnish a guarantee fund towards paying the expenses of the Chautauqua and the proceeds of all the tickets sold will be applied to this fund. By buying tickets now Wilmington people will not only be provided with the means of hearing some of the most prominent Baptist leaders in the South but will also at the same time be rendering the committee needed assistance in securing the funds necessary to meet the expenses of the Chautauqua.

Rev. W. M. Craig, acting pastor of the First Baptist church, a member of the State committee on arrangements, said yesterday that many letters are being received and the indications are that there will be a large attendance. The Chautauqua has been given wide publicity through the State press and also by the distribution of circulars.

The fourth event will be an acuracy contest, open to all. Each man will be allowed three casts at a stake 140 distant, the nearest cast to count. The prize will be 200 yords of 15-thread Original cuttyhunk line.

A special prize—a 300-yard Jamaica Bay reel—will be given for the longest cast of the tournament, provided it exceeds last year's record of 278 feet and six inches. This record is held by Mr. Theo. G. Empie.

WILL DISCUSS TAX VALUES

Business Men of City Invited to Attend Special Meeting of Chamber of Commerce This Afternoon.

The special meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of discussing and giving consideration to the new assessments on down-town property for taxes will likely be attended by a large number of business men. It was called at the request of a number of owners of property on Front street who feel that the assessments are too high. In order that as wide a discussion as possible may be gone into, an invitation has been extended by the Chamber to all interested citizens to attend whether they are members of this body or not.

The citizens responsible for having the meeting called are expected to state their complaints and the matter will then be gone into quite thoroughly. That there should be dissatisfaction over increased assessment of property for taxes was to be expected but it is said that many are of the opinion they have not been dealt with fairly. It is not denied that much of the property which has been raised in value was formerly assesed at too low a figure. The owners declare they would be satisfied with a reasonable increase but state that they can see no reason where in some instances property has been doubled and trebled in value. Complaint is also made that property on Front street has been assessed unfairly; in some instances property being assessed at a figure not much higher than other property worth several times as much.

The assessors have had little to say, but it is understood they have adopted a uniform system in making their assessments with the idea of hewing closely to the line and letting the chips fall where they may. An effort has been made not only to increase the assessments, wherever possible to do so, but also to equalize the values at the same time. This, it is pointed out, will necessarily make the increases in some places greater than in others.

RECORDER EMPIE HAS DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

Clarence Fortune Accused of Throwing Brick at Woman.

An interesting case before Recroder Empie yesterday was that of Clarence Fortune, white, accused by a neighbor woman and her husband, who lived two blocks away, of throwing a brick at her, striking the woman on the shoulder. The woman and her little 14-months-old daughter were in the yard. Both families took a hand in putting the evidence before the court and each made a good showing. There was evidently bad feeling between the families and the settling of the case required close judgment.

The plaintiff claimed she saw the boy throw the brick while the defendant and his whole family declared it impossible to see from one yard to the other. Recorder Empie withheld judgment until he could visit the place and see for himself whether or not the woman could have seen the boy throw the brick.

Another interesting case was that of Hetro Williams, colored, of Farmers, who had a claim that his mule had been injured last December by a train. The court discussed the case for about an hour and judgment was withheld until today.

Ross Kennedy, white, charged with cruelty to animals, was fined $15 and the costs. Sam Spencer, colored, charged with stealing a bicycle, was sentenced to 90 days on the roads. L. A. Mobley, white, for speeding, was taxed with the costs.

MR. NOE WINS MEDAL.

Former Wilmington High School Student Honored at Sewanee.

Many friends of Mr. Israel H. Noe, formerly a student of the Wilmington High School and brother of Archdeacon Thos. P. Noe and Rev. W. R. Noe, of this city, will be interested in learning that he was awarded the J. B. Rylance medal for being the best debater at the commencement exercises at the University of the South last week. The following appeared in the Nashville Tennesseean:

"Under the auspices of the Sewanee Literary Society a debate, an oratorical and a declamatory contest in Forensic Hall were held Friday night as features of the 1915 commencement exercises of the University of the South. The speakers were introduced by Gilbert M. Orr, president of the society, and the debate on the proposition, "Resolved, That immigration should be further restricted by law," was won by F. W. Clark and T. D. Roberts, both of Kentucky, who spoke on its affirmative. The best individual speaker and winner of the J. B. Rylance debate medal was Israel H. Noe, of North Carolina. His colleague was M. W. Glover, of Alabama.

"The medal was presented by Telfair Knight, an alumnus and member of the board of trustees from Florida."

Mr. Noe also won the Buchel medal for the best efficiency in the study of the Spanish language during the past session. The essays were read and passed upon by the professor of Spanish at Johns Hopkins University.

Today they will have a number of aquatic events on the beautiful lake and General Secretary J. B. Huntington, of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. B. A. Thees will go over this morning to act as judges and to enjoy the fun.

Mr. Hinnant and several of the boys will remain at the lake until the latter part of the week to pack up the belongings and get it ready for shipping. Camp Penton, as the boys called their camping place, has been the scene of much pleasure and enjoyment for the past ten days and reports to their parents in Wilmington indicate that the scouts are loath to leave.

O'Shea in which is described how Mrs. Winifred Sackville Stoner, now of Wilmington, trained her wonderful daughter. Dr. O'Shea has been termed America's foremost authority on educational questions. His article is illustrated with six handsome cuts of Winifred Sackville Stoner, Jr., and her mother.

"Her daughter of twelve has achieved an education that fits her to undertake studies such as college graduates are equipped for". Mr. McClure continues. "If she had been educated in the ordinary manner she would be looking forward to entering the high school in a year or two. It is no accident that in her physical vigor and general health she should be almost as notable as in her educational advancement.

"Mrs. Stoner has demonstrated, in teaching her daughter and many other children, certain rational and natural principles of general availability and of supremest importance to all parents and teachers. Dr. O'Shea, of the University of Winconsin, has made a thorough study of Miss Stoner's work and her mother's method, and with high and technical authority writes an introductory article which we print herewith. The amount that may be accomplished by every parent who reads this article and the others by Mrs. Stoner herself, that will appear exclusively in McClure's and the Ladies' World, it is almost impossible to overestimate.

"It is fitting that the magazine which introduced Madame Montessori's work, and the Twilight Sleep, and that printed the first articles on Tesla's wireless, on flying machines, and on submarines—inventions that have revolutionized the modern world—should be the vehicle through which Mrs. Stoner, an education pioneer, is made known to you."

RALLY WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Enjoyable Reception Given Last Evening at St. Andrew's—Interesting Programme Yesterday.

The young people's rally of the Wilmington Presbyterial closed last night with an enjoyable reception in Memorial Hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The programme yesterday was one of unusual interest and great profit. Two sessions were held and following the morning meeting a delightful luncheon was served at the church by the ladies of the congregation of St. Andrew's.

The reception last evening was under the auspices of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society of St. Andrew's and was largely attended, both by the visiting delegates and by Wilmington people, being one of the most enjoyable and delightful affairs ever given in Memorial Hall. The young people who recently gave the amusing farce, "The Sweet Family," repeated it last night which afforded much pleasure to those present. Readings by Misses Louise Worth, Rachel Pearsall and Lucy Behrends were greatly enjoyed, each of the young ladies being skilled and accomplished in the art of expression.

A piano solo by Miss Lina Williams was skilfully rendered and the singing of Miss Ruby Duncan, accompanied by Mr. Martel Tremaine, charmed her hearers and she kindly responded with a second number.

Miss Lucille McCracken was chairman of the social committee which had charge of the reception. Following the programme delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Edwin Taylor presided at the meeting yesterday morning. Following the roll call and the devotional exercises, Mrs. J. C. Stewart extended a warm and gracious welcome to the visitors which was responded to by Miss Ruth Moore, of Burgaw.

Rev. A. J. Howell, of Wilmington, gave an interesting outline of the work that has been done by the young people's societies of the Wilmington Presbyterial during the past year, which was heard with much interest. Reports of the different societies were then made and prayer offered for the continuation of the success of the work.

The young people were fortunate in havng present Rev. G. L. Stevens, of Bladen county, a returned missionary, stationed at Luebo, Africa, who is at home on a furlough. He told of his work in that far distant continent.

Lunch was served at the church at 1 o'clock, this feature having been in charge of Mrs. E. B. King and Mrs. H. G. Smallbones, assisted by the young people of the local churches.

The afternoon session was opened with a praise service. This was to have been conducted by Miss Gladys Brown, of Chadbourn, but unfortunately she could not be present. "An Hour With the Children", under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Philyaw and Mrs. D. M. McIntosh was a feature of the session. The consecration service under the leadership of Miss Nell Bowden was most impressive. The visitors extended a vote of thanks to the ladies of St. Andrew's church and they in turn expressed their thanks to the ladies of the First Presbyterian church. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells.

A feature of the meeting yesterday was the foreign mission pageant under the direction of Miss Antoinette Black and Mrs. W. M. Baker.

CHAIRMAN M'GIRT ON PROGRAMME FOR ADDRESS

Scheduled to Speak Before Good Roads Association.

Chairman W. A. The subject assigned to him is "How to Work Convicts Without Guards." Inasmuch as fine success has been obtained in New Hanover in working men without guards the address will be heard with much interest.

The convention will be of special interest to county and road officials and to all who want to see good roads built in North Carolina. An attractive programme is being arranged.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Safety+Quickness

"Safety First" must ever be the watchword in firearms. But safety must not be secured at the expense of quick action. The Colt Automatic Pistol combines the most dependable kind of safety—automatic safety—with instant firing.

The Colt can't be discharged accidentally, because the trigger must be pulled and the safety in the grip must be pressed in at the same instant and this can't be done except it is done purposely. So much for safety.

As for quickness, the Colt always gets there first, for in an emergency you don't have to bother with or think about the grip safety—it takes care of itself and you.

COTTON PRICES RULE HIGHER

New York Market Was Quiet But Prices Worked Upward and Closed at Good Advance

New York, June 15.—The cotton market was quiet today but prices ruled higher on a comparatively small demand, and closed steady at a net advance of 9 to 11 points.

Liverpool was better than due, and after opening steady at an advance of 5 to 6 points, prices sold about 7 to 9 points net higher. Some realizing caused recessions during the middle of the morning but prices soon firmed up again on the firmness of New Orleans, a few Southern buying orders and renewed covering, with active months showing net gains of from 11 to 14 points in the late trading. The close was only a point or two off from the best under realizing.

Reports of general rains in Oklahoma and seven central belt districts were accompanied by complaints of grassy fields, and sentiment may also have been influenced by claims that boll weevil were doing considerable damage in Alabama and parts of Texas. At no time was buying general or aggressive, but offerings were small. Private cables reported very small offerings in the Liverpool market where prices were higher on scattered covering.

Cotton futures closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Unfavorable Weather Reports and Other Bad Conditions Advance Prices.

New Orleans, June 15.—Unfavorable weather reports of crop damage through excessive rains and claims of increasing boll weevil damage caused a buying wave in the cotton market today which put prices 12 to 14 points over yesterday's last quotations. The advance was well maintained, closing at a net gain of 10 to 13 points.

Throughout the session offerings were light and there was a quick response to buying orders.

The continued advance in local spot prices and reports from the interior that holders of spots were not inclined to let go except at full prices, had considerable bullish effect on sentiment and did also the continued comparatively large export movement. Exports today went over the 8,000,000 mark, the total for the season being 8,002,556.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE LOWER

All Other Financial Developments Outweighed at New York by Exchange Conditions.

New York, June 15.—In its broader and more substantial aspects today's further depreciation in foreign exchange with new low records between this center and London and Paris, outweighed all other financial developments. Demand sterling declined to 4.76 3-8 against the previous low record of 4.77 1-4 and French checks, or demand bills on Paris, sold at 5.45 3-4, a break of 1 3-4 from the previous record. Other continental exchange with the sole exception of Amsterdam, was weak.

Establishment of these records are the more anomalous from the fact that another consignment of $3,500,000 gold was received from Canada and an additional $750,000 of metal was acquired at Tokio for immediate shipment to this country.

Stocks moved contrarily throughout the session, war shares making further gains while representative issues, particularly the railway division, were irregular, when not heavy.

Westinghouse Electric was the leader from start to finish, with a maximum gain of four points. Others in the same class rose from one to three points, but lost ground in the later dealings.

Bond market irregular with weakness in some of the convertible copper issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,012,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders—Guaranteed by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company.

More than half the readers of the Star would give almost anything to be plump and rosy, instead of thin and scrawny.

This preparation is now put up in convenient form for use under the name of Samose.

Taken with each meal, it enables the food you eat to assimilate with the system and that in connection with its own flesh-forming and tissue-building foods gives healthy flesh. The emaciated form fills out into the beautiful curves of plumpness, the scrawny limbs become round and firm, the cheeks fill out and take on the rosy bloom of perfect health and normal strength.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. have secured the agency in Wilmington for Samose, and as the percentage of satisfactory results from the use of this prescription is so nearly one hundred per cent, they feel there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it.

Malaria or Chills & Fever

Prescription No. 666 is prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

MEDICAL SOCIETY HEARS M'BRAYER

His Address Features First Day of Annual Meeting.

DR. NESBITT IS HONORED

Elected Vice President Association of Health Officers—Successful Applicants for License to be Announced Today.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., June 15.—The 62nd annual session of the North Carolina Medical Society met this morning at 10 o'clock in the Grand Opera house. Dr. J. T. J. Battle, of this city, presided over the opening session. Dr. Charles W. Byrd, pastor of West Market Street M. E. church, offered the invocation. Mayor Thomas J. Murphy welcomed the physicians to the city, and Dr. Benjamin K. Hays, of Oxford, responded to the address of welcome.

This was followed by the annual address of President L. B. McBrayer, of the State sanatorium, which was the feature of the opening day. The session closed with reports from the local committees on arrangement and entertainment.

The president's address may be taken largely as a criterion of the attitude of the physicians of the State on all important subjects.

Public Health came in for liberal space, on which subject Dr. McBrayer said in part: "This society, and the people of the State as well, will no doubt be pleased to know that North Carolina is beginning to be looked up to by the other Southern States as a state which leads in public health work. The plans of the State Board of Health are well considered and their policies are constructive, and with Dr. W. S. Rankin as executive officer, these plans and policies are well carried out."

On the control of cancer the doctor said: "The fight resolves itself into obtaining the co-operation of the physicians in treating the early manifestations of cancer and in educating the people to understand what these manifestations are and what they mean."

For the conservation of vision the speaker recommended that the society form a committee to act in conjunction with the State Superintendent of the Blind and his board in conducting an educational campaign throughout the State for the prevention of blindness and for the enforcement of the wholesome laws passed by our last General Assembly.

Narcotics and Patent Medicines.

Dr. McBrayer spoke in no uncertain terms on the subject of narcotics and patent medicine. In part he said: "The records of our insane hospitals show that 50 per cent of the patients there are there on account of the use of narcotics. We are spending nearly three-quarters of a million dollars every year caring for them. When it is positively known that we could save $350,000 annually in the maintenance of our insane hospitals by stopping the use of narcotics—whiskey, opium, cocaine, etc.—it would seem that we would do it as an economic proposition. * * * And it is high time that the religious, as all other self-respecting newspapers in our State, cut themselves loose from the unholy alliance with the patent medicine frauds, by which alliance they are aiding and abetting in the sale of liquor, opium, cocaine, etc., to the people of our State."

The doctor came in for the next score. On tuberculoss Dr. McBrayer said: "Unless the doctors in the State, acting in their capacity as pickets, report the location of the enemy, we will enter the fight with a heavy handicap. Early diagnosis of tuberculosis is of equal importance with the early diagnosis of appendicitis, and there is no excuse for a physician in North Carolina, no matter how poorly prepared, failing to make diagnosis in a case of tuberculosis until all the people of average intelligence in the neighborhood have made the diagnosis from the general symptoms."

The president spoke at length on the favorable attitude of the last General Assembly toward medical matters, and on other subjects pertaining strictly to the society. His address was forceful and eloquent and will long have weight with his confreres.

Dr. H. A. Royster, of the State Board of Medical Examiners, said tonight that the names of successful candidates for licenses would be announced tomorrow morning.

This afternoon there were symposiums on narcotics and cancer, to which the public was admitted. These questions were treated from their technical side but in a way that a layman could understand. In the surgery department Dr. John A. Williams had charge of the program and papers were presented by 20 or more of the State's leading surgeons. Among the speakers of today were Dr. Robert H. Lafter, of Charlotte; Dr. J. F. Highsmith, of Fayetteville; Dr. J. Howell Way, of Waynesville; Dr. J. W. Long, of Greensboro; Dr. H. A. Royster, of Raleigh; Hon. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh; Dr. Watt Cole, of Greensboro; Dr. Fletcher R. Harris, of Henderson; Dr. Forrest A. Carpenter, of Waynesville; Dr. W. M. Jones, of Greensboro, and many others.

This afternoon from 5 to 6:30 o'clock the visiting physicians were tendered a reception by the Southern Life & Trust Company in its offices. This evening Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Long entertained them at their lovely hope on Church street. There are 400 or 500 physicians in the city and a majority of them enjoyed the hospitality of the two events. Tomorrow afternoon they will be entertained at dinner at the State Normal and Industrial College. Other social events are planned for the week. The convention will close Thursday.

An interesting feature of the gathering is the health exhibits of Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina on display in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Nesbitt Honored.

The Association of Health Officers yesterday elected the following officers: Dr. D. E. Sevier, Asheville, president; Dr. C. T. Nesbitt, Wilmington, vice president; Dr. George W. Cooper, Raleigh, secretary. The next place of meeting will be that chosen by the Medical Society and the date will be one day earlier, as this year.

000,000 received from that source since the beginning of the year. Tokio cables reported an engagement of an additional $750,000, increasing the inflow from that quarter to about $9,700,000.

It is possible that a temporary adjustment may be affected tomorrow in consequence of the Bank of England's release of $10,000,000 foreign gold coin, presumably for shipment to this country.

WINNSBORO TRAGEDY IS BEING INVESTIGATED

Man Alleged to Have Been Leader of the Mob Died of Wounds Last Night.

Winnsboro, S. C., June 15. — A coroner's jury today began an investigation into the killing of Sheriff A. D. Hood and his prisoner, Jules Smith, a negro, who were shot down yesterday by a mob of armed men. Twenty witnesses were heard and the inquiry then was adjourned until July 13.

James Rawls was arrested today, making three persons in prison charged with implication in the attack. Clyde Isenhower, alleged leader of the mob, died late tonight in a Chester, S. C., hospital, to which he was moved after the shooting.

Raleigh, N. C., June 15. — It is recalled here that Sheriff A. D. Hood, of Fairfield county, S. C., who was shot to death yesterday while he was resisting a mob, had trouble in this State some years ago through having killed a negro he was attempting to arrest. He came across the border into North Carolina to arrest the negro, who had fled from his county. The negro drew a gun on the sheriff, who shot him dead. There was a formal submission to the charge of manslaughter in the Union county Superior court, and Governor Glenn promptly granted him a pardon, as the proceeding against the sheriff was purely technical.

Sir Edward Carson at First Refused to Take Portfolio in Cabinet

London, June 15.—Sir Edward Carson, the Irish Unionist leader, like John Redmond, the Irish party leader in the house of commons, did not want to join the coalition cabinet said Premier Asquith today in a speech of tribute to those who were supporting the government.

"Sir Edward Carson at first declined when it was suggested that he join the administration", the premier said, "and it was only strong pressure and his sense of public duty which made him associate himself with the government".

Mr. Asquith said he regreted bitterly the absence of any Nationalist in the cabinet, but he said he had done all he could to obtain the co-operation of all.

John Dillon in behalf of the Irish party, explained that their attitude meant no desire eo oppose or to snipe the new government which had their fullest co-operation; but actually to join it was wholly inconsistent with the obligations of the party.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, North Carolina, June 15.—The 36th annual meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association is being held in the Elks' auditorium here. The association was called to order by President G. C. Goodman, of Mooresville, at 10 o'clock this morning. The meeting was opened with prayer by Dr. John J. Hurt, of the First Baptist church, Durham. The druggists were welcomed to the city by the mayor, Mr. Benjamin Smith Skinner. Mr. E. L. Tankerton, of Wilson, responded to the address of welcome on behalf of the association.

The roll call of members by the secretary showed a large number absent. These members have been delayed in coming in, but are arriving on every train and the meeting promises to be largely attended and successful from every standpoint. A number of visitors to the association were called upon by the president and responded briefly.

This afternoon at 2:30, President Goodman made his annual address in which the events of the past year in pharmacy were detailed. This address was followed by the reports of the secretary, J. G. Beard, and of the treasurer, G. E. Burwell.

After a discussion, lasting for some time, the association went on record as favoring the proposed Stevens bill, and resolutions will be forwarded to Congress asking its support of the measure.

Tonight at Lakewood Park the druggists assembled for a dance which is given by the local druggists.

MERCHANTS ADDRESSED BY COL. JNO. F. BRUTON

Tells of Value of New Federal Reserve System

Thirteenth Annual Session of State Merchants Association Convenes in Asheville—Welcomes and Response Last Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., June 15.—The 13th annual convention of the North Carolina Merchants Association convened here tonight when the visitors were welcomed to Asheville. The response was made and Col. John F. Bruton, of Wilson, told of the benefits of the Federal Reserve System. The opening session was called to order by President L. B. Markham, of Durham, and addresses of welcome were delivered by H. W. Plummer and L. B. Rogers. The response was delivered by A. M. West, of Hickory.

Dealing with the value of the Federal Reserve System, Colonel Bruton, who is a member of the board of directors of the Richmond Bank, declared that under the new arrangement a panic is practically an impossibility, and the system will demand the meeting of notes upon their maturity. The merchants, the farmers and the manufacturers are greatly benefitted, he said, although the greatest benefit will be derived by the average man, forming the middle class.

The question to be considered in the establishment of a merchants' credit, according to Colonel Bruton, is not whether he is solvent but whether he is prompt in meeting his obligations. The Federal Reserve system has stabilized discounts and has marked the end of long time credit. Under capitalization is a thing of the past and the merchant who expects to have good credit must do business within the amount of his capital stock.

PAN-AMERICAN FEELING GROWS SINCE WAR, LATIN STATESMEN TELL BURTON

PRESIDENT BENEVIDES and SENATOR BURTON

The high altitude of the Andes possessed no terrors for Theodore E. Burton, former U. S. senator, whose journey down the west coast of South America has been attended by a display of official hospitality on a scale never before tendered a private American citizen.

The senator arrived in Santiago bronzed by the sun of the tropics through which he passed and radiating health and energy, astonishing the English-speaking colony by the manner his physique had withstood the rigors of the mountain country.

The thin air of the tremendous Andean heights, ranging from 10,000 to 15,000 feet above sea level, is itself a physical test which many American travelers find unendurable. But added to the ordinary discomfort of a reduced oxygen supply is the peculiar Andean affliction, soroche, a sort of intensified sea-sickness, which has not infrequently proved fatal to persons of low resistence.

Because of these conditions, Mr. Burton is one of the first Americans of prominence to visit and study the mountain regions of Peru and Bolivia. Neither Roosevelt, Root nor Robert Bacon, on their memorable visits to South America, attempted to go up on the high Andes.

Mr. Burton, however, showed that his exhausting fights against the river and harbor pork barrel bill and the ship purchase bill in the Senate last fall and winter did not weaken his health. He spent two enjoyable weeks in the Andes, studying the regions on which Peru and Bolivia base most of their hopes for prosperity.

He began his mountain experience by ascending the Oroya railroad, which starts from Lima and carries its rails to a point higher than that attained by any other railroad on earth. Later he traveled over two other Andean-piercing railroads, crossing into the upper plateau of Peru at an altitude of 14,866 feet.

He visited Cuzco, ancient seat of Inca civilization, crossed Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable water on earth, and devoted a week to Bolivia, stopping at La Paz, where he was shown many honors by the government. Some of his excursions were on horseback over rough, dizzy trails.

The republics of Peru and Bolivia showed their appreciation of Mr. Burton's interest by entertaining him lavishly. The ministers of these countries in Washington had informed their governments that the former senator is a strong Presidential possibility in the United States and the local administrations spared no effort to make an impression on the guest who might some day deal with them as the head of his nation.

In the many speeches exchanged at the capitals, and in the smaller towns visited by Mr. Burton, the hope was frequently expressed with fervor by the Latins that the European war may result in a strengthening of ties between the United States and the South American republics, and that the manifestation may be a greatly increased South American trade for American manufacturers.

of which I cannot conceive and which I never heard," the admiral said. "I think it hardly possible to establish the innocence of these men."

"Admiral, is it your purpose to resign and go to sea in a collier?" asked Congressman Carlin.

"Not at all," was the reply. "My reason for mentioning that subject at all was simply this: That after all I had said to the midshipmen of my views of 'gouging', I had apparently not succeeded in pounding into them the seriousness of it. I told the four class presidents that I considered it such a reflection on this school that if it continued to exist here I would find it no honor or satisfaction to remain as superintendent."

Evidence was given at the morning session tending to show that there was a material difference in the value of information given to midshipmen in class rooms by instructors in various sections pursuing the same course of studies in the modern language department."

URGE THE NEED OF BEING PREPARED

and by a reliance upon its own preparedness, rather than upon treaties and written papers of any sort.

"They say the Lord takes care of drunken men and sailors. I sometimes think the United States of America ought to be added to the list of those who are under his especial guidance.

"I believe we ought to have a regular army, adequate to make a first line, and to give us a breathing spell within which to organize out of our magnificent raw material an army which would be sufficient."
